THE CURSE OF STATE BANKING.

We have so steadily attacked the present system of State-banking, never expecting our voice to find an echo in the financial or political ambient of this country, that we may be pardoned for welcoming with intense satisfaction another champion against the banking curse of this fair country. As we stated before, no Argentine newspaper has up to the present cared to attack the root of all our financial distress, that calamity of State-banking; one and all have agreed to ignore the cause for the pleasure of indulging in constant attacks on the extravagance and mediocrity of the Government. They have wilfully, we may say, ignored the real cause of the crisis to grasp at shadows and make political importance out of matters essentially financial and economic. Such a line of conduct on the part of the so called independent press leaves the door open for wild conjecture, and in this regard one Argentine colleague of certain official affinities has begun to raise the veil that covered the propaganda of a certain portion of the press.

We have always wondered, and we may be excused for doing so, at the extraordinary unanimity of the press in favour of the government of the province of Buenos Ayres, convinced as we were that in no portion of this fair country were the errors of state-banking so painfully visible as in the management of financial affairs in La Plata. We had seen the La Plata Government drain the coffers of its Provincial Bank to the amount of 21 millions; we looked on with amazement at the unparalleled liberality of a mortgage bank that issued 250 millions of cedulas in the short span of three years; but what staggered us was the apparent "mot d'ordre" that silenced all attacks on such a glaring policy of extravagance and speculation, whilst no means were spared to attack the National Government for errors which in the comparison looked like venial sins. The management of the National Mortgage Bank, can anybody deny it, has been a credit to the Government; the result we see in the quotation of its Cedula, above par or in that vicinity, according to series; meantime, the Cedulas of the Provincial Mortgage Bank, enjoying 1 o|o more interest than the National Cedulas, were quoted as low as 49 o|o. The verdict of the market could not be clearer.

Whilst the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres was drained by the La Plata Government to the amount of 21 millions, the National Government filled the coffers of the National Bank with 60 millions paper and a score of millions in gold. Could there be a greater contrast? Yet the La Plata Government was praised to the skies by all organs, whilst the whips of the Opposition lashed the National Government. We do not hereby imply that the financial policy of the National Government is praiseworthy; far from it, as we have attacked that policy for the last twelve months; but we wish to draw attention to the strange position assumed by the Press in this regard. Independent opinion blames the National Government, but it blames still more the Buenos Aires Government, and in the latter regard, the opposition press has only seen fit to recognise its mission when all the errors were committed, when the evil was done, and at a moment that the governor of the province is preparing to surrender the reins of power and abandon public life. The disclosures that have been made in this connection by our talented colleague, Censor, lead to many disagreeable suppositions that tell terribly against the opposition press and suggest a still stronger condemnation of all this system of state banking.

State banking has developed into the axiom that a grant of Cedulas or of money is a signal favor to the individual, and that favor must be curried for by the means of influence or political support; these are plain words, but they are stern facts. And let us confess that such grants are essentially favors, since the money was granted at a much lower interest than that prevailing in the market and the Cedulas have been handed to pools and syndicates engaged in the inflation of land values. These paper dollars and these Cedulas have blinded judgment for three years; how could it be otherwise; or must we expect people to be more than human. The recipient of money at 7 o/o or of Cedulas on outside lands must be a tough philosopher indeed if he can manage to be impartial in such a vortex. And here is the curse of state banking in its corrupting and blinding influences.

For the first time in three years a prominent Argentine has come forward to open the eyes of his countrymen in this respect; let us not suggest venality or corruption in connection with State banking, for we are convinced that such financial degradation has not yet been reached in this country; we mean that bribery, as it is understood in other countries, is not resorted to here in the repugnant features with which the world in general associates such a term. What has happened is this; men with control of capital have protected their friends and even their enemies in certain instances. This policy has gone so far as to sap the financial foundations of the country and to create the present crisis. Dr. J. J. Romero has come forward to show his countrymen the dangers of such a policy and invites the Government and the people to abolish State banking. We quote his words:—

"In my opinion it is absolutely necessary to abolish State banking, whether banks of discount or mortgages, if we wish to improve our situation, check the progress of the crisis, and save the future."

We believe that it is the first time that such sound ideas have been published in the columns of our Argentine colleagues. Dr. Romero goes on—

"In the past State banks may have done some good, but it might not be difficult to prove that they did more evil; but it is beyond doubt that to-day their existence is disastrous to the political liberty and material progress of the country.

"The state banks have distributed their monies amongst political friends or amongst these who courted the favor of governments. Commerce and industry, which do not grow under the shade of official protection, were neglected, or very small credits were accorded to them. Meantime, there are parties, with names familiar to us, who have received hundreds of thousands of dollars, though in the market their credit would have failed to secure an insignificant amount.

"This alone would suffice to advocate the suppression of State banks, but they are the factors in a still far greater evil. These State Banks are, and will continue to be, the most powerful as well as the vilest means of political corruption."

We think that the above statements of Dr. Romero suffice for the moment to warrant a popular movement to suppress the State Banks. They are an unmitigated curse, and the men in the National Government will learn some fine day, and that ere long, to their cost, that such is an undeniable fact. Let all join in putting an end to such a pernicious system.

DR. ROMERO'S PLAN.

1.—The National Bank and all the provincial State-banks to be amalgamated into one banking establishment to be called Banco de la Republica.

2.—This new bank to take over the assets and liabilities of all the statebanks: its capital to be the aggregate of the capital of those banks, or to be fixed after the liquidation mentioned lower down in 4th.

3.—All the private shareholders of these state-banks to receive in exchange shares at same face value of the new bank.

4.—The new bank shall liquidate separately each of the state-banks, and the net balance, after making allowance for the private shares, shall be declared capital of the National Government or provincial governments respectively. The liquidation of these state banks must be completed in a term of five years.

5.—The capital of the respective Governments in the new Bank shall earn the same return as that accruing to the private capital; but the government shall not receive shares and shall not interfere in the management of the Bank beyond the interference marked out in 6th.

6.—The Bank shall be divided into two departments—one banking and the other simply dealing with the issue of notes: both shall be under the Board of Management. In the Note Issue Department the National Government shall have an Inspector to watch the issue.

7.—The actual issue of paper-money can only be increased when the gold reserves amount to one-third of the note issue, and that increase must be guaranteed by a gold deposit equal to three-quarter of the value of the paper issue.

8.—The Bank shall be managed by a Board of 15 members. A Director must be a native Argentine or foreigner of 10 to 15 years residence in the country, and possess 1000 shares of the Bank. No Director can be reelected unless he possess 2000 shares; and these shares must be deposited in the Bank as pledge that they are not in circulation; furthermore, the numbers of such shares shall be published.

9.—The dividend on shares shall not exceed 5 o|o if the gold premium be at 100 o|o, nor 8 o|o with gold premium at 50 o|o, nor 10 o|o if gold be above 10 o|o premium. The balance of profits shall go to increase the gold reserve.

10.—The first Board which will take over the liquidation of all the State banks shall be chosen by all the private shareholders at a general meeting by plurality of votes. Each vote must represent 500 shares. Until further notice, the new Board shall abide by the statutes of the National Bank.

11.—The new Bank must have branches in all the capitals of provinces and in all settlements with a population exceeding 6000 souls.

12.—The Bank's charter shall be for 30 years.

THE ARGENTINE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The most unmistakable sign of the rising storm in Argentine finance comes, as is fitting, from the National Bank. At the meeting of shareholders held recently in Buenos Ayres, no optimistic anticipations of the chairman or soft words of the auditors could overcome the gloom produced by the facts and figures then presented—they told their own tale but too plainly. The National Bank, like most of the provincial banks, has pledged its resources up to the hilt in depreciated securities and unrecoverable credits. The auditors make the best of the position; but even they cannot get over the ugly fact that the bad and doubtful debts amount to no less than $2,674,122, and that the greater number of debtors will only be able to meet their obligations, 'if allowed time and facilities by the Board'." They say, also, that "advances on accounts current have been granted too freely, and it is not convenient for the bank to grant loans of this kind on a large scale, but only to merchants to assist in developing their operations." It is a pity that this elementary truth was not enforced before it was too late. It is notorious that the National Bank has been as great a sinner as its smaller brethren in financing and bolstering up the wildest speculators. A lurid light is thrown on the way in which the Argentine banks are too often managed by the recent failure of one of the directors of the National Bank, when it was found that he had obtained advances from that institution for no less a sum than $610,000. This is not by any means an isolated case, and in the coming crash, and consequent liquidation, it will be found that many of the banking and credit companies have largely been carried on for the purpose of advancing extravagant sums on bad security to people connected with the institutions. The view of the position of the National Bank taken by those who are best able to form a correct judgment is shown by the fact that at the beginning of the year the shares were quoted in Buenos Ayres at $220. After the meeting they fell to $180, and they are now almost unsaleable at $140. When it is considered that for years these shares—in consequence of their stability and the ease with which advances could be obtained upon them—have been the principal investment security held by Argentine traders, it will readily be seen how profoundly the credit of the establishment has been shaken by recent events.

The whole position of Argentine finance is most unsatisfactory, and if to-day we specially refer to the banks it is simply because the part they have played in the financial history of the country is most reprehensible and because, as is fitting, they will have to bear the first strain of the coming difficulties. The ease with which money has been raised in the European markets, and the facile manufacture of Cedulas, coupled with the readiness with which vast sums have been advanced on the security of agricultural and pastoral land, much of which has merely a prospective value, has enabled the banks, both national and provincial, to show enormous apparent profits. But the facilities which they have afforded to speculation in land have had the natural result of unduly inflating its price, and so long as these facilities were unstinted each successive sale left a large margin, out of which interest could be paid. But such a policy must, and does invariably bring disaster in its wake. Overspeculation in land means over-speculation in other commodities as well, and an inflation of values naturally follows. For the difficulties which are thus caused the first remedy which presents itself to a South American financier is an issue of unconvertible paper money, with, of course, the inevitable result of a further appreciation of gold. As we have said, however, the banks now have to bear the brunt of the difficulties they have created, and so far as can be seen, the only hope left for them is to obtain large remittances of gold from Europe. But in this they are likely to be disappointed. It is true that considerable sums are still due on this side on account of the many Argentine enterprises and loans which were floated in Europe last year, but unfortunately these resources are not available, having been set apart or pledged for specific purposes. Neither the French nor German financiers are disposed to extend any aid, and the only hope is in the great financial houses in London, who have, however, their hands full of recent issues of stock which the investing public have declined to absorb. With gold at the present premium of 160, and in view of the Government's inability to fulfil their promise to reduce the enormous paper currency, together with the alarming shrinkage in values of all Argentine securities both in Europe and at the Plate, it is now a question whether in the present state of our money market it is in any way possible to prop up the great edifice of credit which is beginning to fall to pieces at Buenos Aires.

The gold premium is not by any means the sole difficulty that has to be met. It is not now so high as it has been, but the situation is more complicated than at any previous period. The great influx of money from abroad has fostered a gambling fever, by which prices have been tremendously inflated, and this, coupled with the immense burden of the interest on the foreign debt—national, provincial, municipal, industrial &c.—has rendered the stock of gold totally inadequate. The result is the depreciation which has recently taken place, and which is bound to make still further progress. The action of powerful houses here in advancing considerable sums of gold, and supporting the market for securities, may possibly stave off the crash for a time; but it can only prolong the agony for some months longer. When the crisis comes, good securities and bad will, no doubt, fall as indiscriminately as they have risen, and the consequences must be disastrous. The inchoate municipalities with big loans, the provincial banks whose capital is all lent to their directors, the piled-up Cedulas secured on unproductive land at extravagant prices, and the other mushroom products of an over inflation fostered by a reckless and dishonest banking system must soon come to grief. While the bankers who have filled their pockets with fat commissions on doubtful issues may weather the storm, it will go hard with investors who, disregarding the repeated warnings of the Financial News, and putting their faith in rose-colored prospectuses, have honored Argentine drafts on the far-distant future.

THE DOCK STRIKE.

20,000 MEN IDLE.

ACTION OF THE SHIPOWNERS.

MONSTER PROCESSIONS.

Liverpool, March 7.

The harbour crisis at Liverpool docks assumed yesterday an aspect of extreme gravity. Confined on the previous day to the large steam-docks at the Northend of the city, the dispute has now extended along the whole line of docks until, except in the smaller basins in the centre of the Dock Estate and the enclosed docks, where the men are employed by the Dock Board, work has been suspended. By this action more than 20,000 men are out of work; the extensive shipping business of the port on the Liverpool side has been either stopped or most seriously hampered; and widespread uneasiness has been engendered. The Union leaders have issued a manifesto calling for a general strike. It is couched in terms similar to those of the placard which was recently repudiated as having been issued without the authority of the Union, and it asks for support for that organization, as well as for refusal to work with non-union men. Besides this the leaders of the Labourers' Union have made overtures for co-operation to the Seamen's and Firemen's Union and to the unions of the carters, flatmen, and coal heavers, riggers, &c. The object was to cripple the shipowners and stevedores by an overwhelming combination, but not one of these bodies of labour has responded. All have declined at the present moment to assist the agitation.

The object for which the present strike has been promoted is, as already stated, the enforcement of the demand by the Labourers' Union of the acceptance by the shipowners and stevedores of the Union rules. The Labourers' Union leaders promise that if they are accepted, or accepted on the whole, the strike will at once terminate. One of the main points, it may be stated, is that a night's work shall be reduced from ten to nine hours.

In the meantime very strict precautions are being taken to prevent disturbances or damage. As the quays and sheds are filled with valuable cargo waiting to be shipped, great numbers of police have been drafted into the docks. The consequence of these proceedings was that the North docks yesterday presented the appearance of being in a state of siege.

In addition to the constables on duty along the docks, a large force of police was yesterday, as a matter of precaution, kept in reserve both at the Central Police-office, Dale-street, and the various dock police-stations. These men are under the direct supervision of the head-constable, Captain Nott Bower, assisted by the deputy head-constable, Mr. Allbutt, Superintendent Wood, and a staff of inspectors. Detective-inspector Irving was in charge of a strong detachment of plain clothes men, and altogether the police arrangements have so far proved fully adequate.

The strikers held yesterday, at noon, on some vacant land near the Huskisson Dock, a great mass meeting, at which there were present some 10,000 men. They were addressed by Mr. Edwin M'Hugh, general secretary of the union, who urged them to stand firm in support of the union rules. Those rules demanded the reduction of the hours of nightwork from ten to nine; and if adopted they would tend to lessen the high death-rate now prevalent among the dock labourers. These remarks were loudly cheered.

Subsequently it was resolved to form a monster procession, and those present falling into rank moved along Derby-road to Strand-road, Bootle. In the front rank was Mr. M'Hugh and other union leaders. The procession seemed to be of endless length, and extended when on the march from the Huskisson Dock to Bootle. Opposite the Alexandra Dock the men, on seeing the closed gates posted with the placards of the Employers' Labour Association, gave a derisive cheer. A strong force of police was present, and the men moved on in an orderly way along the line of docks towards the south, causing much excitement among great numbers of non-union men and others who were hanging about the entrances to the docks. The dock gates were shut as they approached, and strong patrols of police were on duty at various stations. Numbers of people viewed the demonstration from windows and other points of vantage, and at the Stanley Dock, where the men are employed by the Dock Board at less than the union rates, there was some hostile demonstration. The procession, however, did not stop, but proceeded to the South Docks.

Upon arriving at the bottom of Water Street the processionists turned up that thoroughfare, and proceeding through Castle-street and South Castle-street, proceeded southwards past the Custom-house. Their appearance was the cause among business men of considerable astonishment and also of some interruption of the traffic. Near the Custom-house not a little amusement was afforded to the demonstrators by the spectacle of a contingent of police scrambling on to the omnibuses going to the South Docks. A considerable force of constables accompanied the procession. Opposite the Queen's Dock the men were joined by some 5,000 others from the South-end, and the whole demonstration, forming a great surging mass of human beings, moved on until it arrived at a stretch of vacant land in Grafton-street, near the Toxteth Dock.

Here an empty baker's cart, the driver of which, a youth, had stopped to gaze at the procession, was seized and surrounded by a number of the strikers. It formed an improvised platform, on to which Mr. M'Hugh, general secretary, Mr. M'Keown, district secretary and others scrambled. The horse was taken out of the shafts and conducted to the outside of the immense crowd, where he was left contentedly to feed on some provender which was in a box in the vehicle. This done, a member of the union came forward and asked that a ballot of the union men might be taken, in order to see whether or not they were in favor of continuing the strike, seeing that certain of their terms had been conceded. Cries of "No surrender" followed this expression of opinion, and cheers were given for the union.

LATEST FROM PAYSANDU.

Our newsy Montevideo contemporary, the River Plate Times, publishes the following letter from Paysandu:—

"No doubt this month will see the turning point in the life history of our Department.—The second section of the Midland Railway will be opened to the public, viz., from Los Merinos to the Queguay. We shall then be within fifteen hours of Montevideo.

"We think that Paysandu well deserves the careful attention of importing houses, as she must become the great distributing centre of the north of the Republic and Brazil. Ocean going vessels can reach Paysandu nearly all the year round, and railway communication can be had through the heart of the department to Salto and Brazil. Such unusual facilities for transport are rarely open to commerce.

"We hear that Mrs. Fuentes has sold to Mr. Superveille six "suertes" of camp, twelve leagues from Paysandu and four leagues from the Midland Railway, on the Salto line. These lands are said to be for colonial purposes. The soil is light, the country undulating, well adapted for growing cereals, tobacco, vines, etc. Mr. Marquez is having his camp in Polmar Chico divided into "chacras" for colonists. Two well known surveyors from Montevideo are now preparing the plans.

"Large quantities of Santa Maria's Extract of Meat have been made this year, and we are glad to notice its increased appreciation in Europe. The most scrupulous cleanliness is observed during its preparation, and the beef from which it is made is carefully selected. Santa Maria and Co., we understand, are the largest extract makers in the Oriental Republic, after Liebig's Extract of Meat Company. The process used here is exactly the same as taught by the illustrious Liebig himself, and, therefore, bears his name. Mr. Alberto Santa Maria is devoting his attention to the preparation of powdered, desicated beef, a preparation now largely used in Europe.

"Some reports got into the local papers about the treatment of the colonists at Guaviyu. It was alleged that proper care was not given to the new arrivals, and that diphtheria had broken out among them These reports have been promptly contradicted, and we understand the colony is as prosperous, as can be expected with a new undertaking.

"The valuable camp property of Sr. Horta is likely to pass into the hands of a powerful syndicate. The proposal is to colonize it with agricultural immigrants, and also to bring skilled workmen to establish new industries among us, Some of the most influential men in the country are at the head of the movement. No better place could be selected for trials of our infant enterprises."

DISASTROUS COLLIERY EXPLOSION.

Cardiff, March, 10.

Another dreadful colliery explosion occurred in the South Wales coalfield today, by which it is feared that about 150 lives have been lost. The exact scene of this disaster is the Morfa Colliery, Tarbach, the property of Messrs. Vivian and Sons, the owners of important works in the neighbourhood. Tarbach is situated near the coast, about midway between the eastern and western confines of Glamorganshire. The pits are sunk in such close proximity to the Bristol Channel that some of the workings are under the water. Already there have been two explosions here—one on October, 17, 1863 when 30 men were killed, and the other in 1870, when several lives were lost.

This last disaster, which it is feared, will prove to be of a very much more serious kind, happened at 12 30 in the part of the workings known as the Cribbwr vein, which is known to be particularly fiery. The news of the explosion spread rapidly, and hundreds of people made their way down to the pit's mouth from Tairbach, Aberavon, and the surrounding district. Amongst these were many women and children. The manager organized a band of volunteers and superintended the work of rescue, which was at once commenced. A great many miners were brought to the surface from the 9ft. vein, suffering from nothing more serious than the fright and a little effect of after-damp. One or two were afterwards brought up alive from the Cribbwr vein, but they were so badly injured that very little hope was entertained of their recovery or of the safety of those who were still below. The explorers on entering the Cribbwr vein found that a heavy fall barred their progress. Behind this about 150 men are imprisoned, and the gravest fears are entertianed in regard to them.

Railway Items

Everything is now ready for the inauguration of the Trenquelauquen Extension, which will take place next Sunday. It is not certain yet whether the Governor will be able to go. We hear there will be a great flow of eloquence on the occasion. This extension makes the Western Railway over 900 kilometres in length, a valuabe concern indeed. Talking of the Western Railway, we are reminded that the report of fresh bids for its purchase is officially confirmed, and it is quite possible the Provincial Government will close with the most favorable tender before the stipulated date, August 10th, 1890.

A meeting of the shareholders of the Pobladores Railway was held on Wednesday Mr. T. Duggan in the chair. The report for 1889 was read, shewing the concern to be in a very flourishing condition, the profits amounting to 827,520 dollars. In reply to Mr. Ambrosetti, the chairman said the last call would not be made at present, since the affairs of the company were so flourishing, that there was no immediate need for it. It was decided to give shares in exchange for the certificates and call an extraordinary meeting for the 28th inst.

The Pobladores Railway, which will be soon finished, is divided into three sections, viz:—Belgrano to Olivos; Olivos to San Isidro; San Isidro to Las Conchas.

The first section is already completed and the second will be finished this year.

Letters have been received from Reconquista stating that the Central South-American Railway Company are pushing forward their works to Formoso with great activity. However, it appears there is some hitch, and if the Government do not grant permission to build a tram-line for the carriage of material to the earthworks, work will have to be suspended during the rainy season. We presume the Home Minister will find no difficulty in granting the necessary authority.

The Inspector-General has received a letter from Engineer Seidler, who states that he sees no necessity for second and third-class stations in certain parts of the Dean-Funes and Chilecito Railway. The Inspector General is of Mr. Seidler's opinion.

According to Engineer Voyer's report, the works of the railway Villa Maria to Rufino made some progress last month About 18,000 cubic metres were thrown up and the earthworks now reach kil. 191 from Villa Maria; one and a half kilometres of rails were laid during the month, the stock of rails in deposit being 4943. No masonry work has as yet been begun. The works of this railway appear to us to be making very little headway. Perhaps, it is difficult to secure hands.

We clip the following items from our Rio exchanges of March 31st:—

"The two tramway companies of Para were definitely united on 28th February.

"On the 24th the announcement was made that the Viacao Central do Brazil company had contracted with the Banco Constructor for opening the Rio das Velhas and building the railway to Diamantina, with the branch to Serro.

"The Governor of Rio Janeiro was granted an interest guarantee of 6 per cent per annum on a maximum capital of $450,000 for 30 years to the Marica railway company. The line was to be extended to Nictheroy and to a place called Piquete, near Marica.

"It is evident that the people of the northern districts of S. Paulo are determined to have their railway to Ubatuba. The agitation in favour of the new line continues and the question appears to be as to the interest guarantee; the old imperial guarantee was fixed as a maximum at 6 per cent on 30,000$ per kilometre, but this is not sufficient for the projected line.

"According to the preliminary survey, the Rio terminus of the Angra dos Reis railway, which is to be built by the Sapucahy company, will be on Botafogo Bay, near the pumping station of the City Improvements Co. A tunnel will be cut through the Morro de Pasmado, and another under the ridge to Copacabana at the Leme pass. A piece of the bay will be reclaimed for the Botafogo station."

The general meeting of the shareholders of the Metropolitan Tramway Company at Puerto Buenos Aires took place yesterday, at 3 p.m., at the offices of the concern, with a large attendance. Mr. Ed. M'Coll as chairman, expressed the situation and general state of affairs; and in view of the difficulty to increase or raise capital to put the company in a condition to finish without delay, all the lines, &c., the Directory proposed the re-organisation into an English Company, according to arrangement made with the London firm Punchard, McTaggart, Lowther and Company. The new form and company has already been prepared with General Sir Andrew Clarke as chairman. The shareholders in Buenos Ayres will exchange their shares for the new ones in gold at the rate of 200. The proposal was unanimously approved and the shareholders much pleased at the fine opportunity Mr. Call offers them to reorganize the company on such good terms, especially in these times.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

His Majesty the Gold Premium stiffened his back bone again yesterday, which was an exciting day, both on and off 'Change. Dame Rumour had a fine time of it, and some of the tales she set afloat were not exactly calculated to appreciate shinplasters. The military mutiny in Rio was another unpleasant feature. It is evident that the new republic has some tough work before it; it sprang from the wrong source—bayonets. Between the wretched mess we are in here, the unsettled condition of Brazil and Chile's contemplated false step towards a federal republic, Europe will certainly go back for a time to its old distrust of everything 'South American'. It is a pity.

There was nothing very fresh from Montevideo yesterday, except some more military scandals and the suppression of the world "Cedula" from the B.O. dictionary, as it now has the same effect on a London capitalist as a red rag on a bull, and our friends over the water are just now bent on getting some more coin out of Mr. Bull, who does not know a word of Spanish, or what "el mismo fraile con otras alforjas" means; otherwise he would answer "a otro perro con ese hueso."

There was bad news from the Garden of the Republic yesterday. The sugar-cane crop is as bad as it could be, and the wheat and maize are in pretty much the same cranky boat, owing to drought. Finally there is not a shinplaster to be seen or had for love or money.

There was a funny scene on the mole yesterday owing to a lady catching her husband sauntering about looking at the girls, when he should have been, as she told him, in his office at work. After slapping his face smartly and abusing him roundly, she walked him off to his work, amid the cheers and laughter of the crowd.

We are glad to welcome our old friend Dr Liddale back to the Plate. He arrived by the s.s. Coleridge.

Dublin for ever! It seems that the Yacht Club have already ordered a sample "Water Wag" boat, owing to the recommendations of two members of the Royal Alfred Yacht Club, resident here. Another centre-board sailing boat has been ordered from Burgoyne of Kingston on Thames, whilst Stow of Shoreham will probably have an order for one of his craft. Irishmen are enthusiastic yachtsmen, and the "Royal Alfred" men are reckoned about the best corinthian sailors in the kingdom.

There will be the usual Quarterly Communion in the Scotch Church on Sunday next and a Preparatory Service to-night at 7.30. On Sunday evening there will be a special service for young men. The collection at both services will be in aid of the Poor Fund of the Church. There will be no Sunday school.

We are glad to find that the news we cut from the Times the other day about English ladies being insulted in the theatre at Funchal is utterly untrue. So angry were the English residents there that they held a meeting at Mr. Bladey's house and sent a sharp letter to Printing House Square demanding a retraction of such a libel on the good people of Madeira, who are noted for their good manners and courtesy. Our London contemporary seems most unfortunate of late. The result of the Parnell Commission has evidently affected its management as well as its circulation.

Physiologists say that the older a man grows the smaller his brain becomes. This explains why the old man knows nothing and the young one everything.

The cyclone paid a visit to Rio last month. This is what the Rio News says of it:—

"Early on the morning of the 30th a tremendous storm visited this city. The wind was very high and the rain fell in torrents from about one to seven a.m. Many districts of the city were flooded, the water in some cases rising over three feet above the side walks, and much damage is reported. A number of houses, chiefly of the most flimsy construction, fell into ruins under the rain, but there appears to have been but one fatal accident, a child being killed in one of the wrecked houses. Traffic on the tram lines was partially interrupted, and the telegraph and telephone wires also suffered."

"The Princess Royal of Sweden and Norway and her suite left Nice this morning, and have gone to Nervi, near Genoa.

"The maid of Mrs. General Maxwell, a native of London, Ann Hampshire by name, aged thirty-six, committed suicide yesterday evening by throwing herself from a window of the Villa Garin Cimiez, an English mansion, near Nice. She complained in the morning of headache, and informed her mistress that she had been in a madhouse for six months eight years ago, and requested Mrs. Maxwell to send her to an asylum. Her mistress advised her to return to her friends in London, and commenced to make arrangements for her doing so. It was then that she went up to her room and committed suicide. Death was instantaneous, as she fell on her head and broke her neck. No reason but insanity is ascribed for her rash act, as she had some money."

The Argentine Bench is still the bulwark of the people's rights, and the only one left. The Supreme Federal Court has just given judgment on appeal in three separate actions brought by the editor of Don Quijote against the police for illegal arrest, seizure of his property, and assault and battery. The Court below (Dr. Tedin) gave judgment in each case for the plaintiff, and the highest tribunal in the land has now fully confirmed it. The result is that the police will have to pay our colleague $22,000 damages, with all costs.

General Racedo is the coming man in Entre-Rios, so he will soon say to his Cabinet colleagues "Fare thee well, and if for ever, still for ever, fare thee well."

The Elbe's mails were delivered yesterday; but the London papers are only to the 15th, same date as we published yesterday.

The following is the very latest news from that nice and fashionable place Nice:

"The ex-Emperor of Brazil, with the Comtesse d'Eu, came over from Cannes this morning. On leaving the station he walked to a cabstand and entered a voiture. The horse was a jibber, and refused to move, and nearly upset the aged monarch into the gutter. A crowd assembled and Dom Pedro promptly jumped into another carriage and drove off.

We have to thank Messrs. Mackern and McLean for sending us yesterday with their usual kind alacrity, a large supply of late English papers.

We knew it and said it a month ago. Like all respectable Exhibitions here and elsewhere, that of the Rural Society at Palermo will not be ready for opening on the day named, (20th inst.) so the ceremony has been postponed till the 4th of May. Congress will probably be opened about the same date, so the two Shows will make an even start. Intending exhibitors must hurry up, as the 30th will be the last day for receiving exhibits.

One of the funniest printer's errors we have seen for a long time occurred in our leader yesterday. The last paragraph was made to read "Alas! since then we have descended to the age of brass and steal-age" etc. What we wrote was "Alas! since then we have descended to the age of brass and steel—aye, with a vengeance." Although we have no "systematic opposition" printers on our staff, several of them are like poor Yorick—"fellows of infinite wit and humour"—and we can only suppose that one of them yielded to irresistible temptation to perpetrate a shockingly bad pun.

Dr. Romero's cure for the crisis is only sound one as yet proposed outside those suggested by the part of P... His idea of a separate banking and issue department is a leaf taken from the book of the great-grandmother of all the banks in the world—the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street. The idea of turning the National Mortgage Bank into a second edition of the "Frees" that have caused all our woes won't hold water.

In Montevideo they are going to renumber the streets on the same principle we have here.

The victors in last week's international cricket match at Montevideo will probably take some interest in the following paragraph from the River Plate Times:—"Copies of the photographs taken by Mr. Fitz Patrick of the Cricket Match and the competing teams, last week, are now on view in the bazaar under the English Club. They are excellent views and, although the figures are small the likenesses are unmistakable. Copies are on sale at Mr. Fitz Patrick's studio."

Would you believe it? The dreaded cyclone has come and gone. It was, after all the fuss, what our American cousins so expressively call "a mean fraud." This is what our British contemporary over the water says on the subject:—"It appears that the cyclone prophesied for the beginning of the month actually occurred in Santa Lucia, on Friday afternoon, but without causing any damage. This is a great relief, as we were afraid it might still be hovering about our neighbourhood, ready to pounce on us with or without a moment's notice. Moreover, it has saved the character of the weather prophets at Villa Colon."

A smash for three millions of depreciated dollars is reported in Rosario, and other events of the same kind are shortly expected. In fact creditors everywhere are now in great demand and receive scores of pressing invitations to attend meetings not quite so pleasant as a dinner at the Cafe de Paris. They are in no humour, therefore, to sing with Tommy Moore, "And doth not a meeting like this make amends for all the long years we've been wandering (trading) away?"

We are glad to notice that Mr. Oxenford, so long connected with the Great Southern Railway, has gained the action for defamation brought by him immediately after his retirement from the service of the Company in May last. The judgment of the "Juez del Crimen," Dr. Soneyra, is a complete vindication of Mr. Oxenford and sentences the defendant to one year's imprisonment for "cargos gratuitos y calumniosos" with payment of all the costs of the suit.

Now that the bathing season at Mar del Plata is over, true to the horse-behind-cart traditions of this noble country, the question of providing means of safety for bathers has been raised by the zealous authorities of the Argentine Brighton. The Minister of the Interior, however, has unfeelingly "archived" the elaborate suggestions sent to him on the subject by the aforesaid authorities.

The Bearn has arrived with 340 immigrants, quite a large number in these hard times. Only a short year ago nearly 1,000 a day was the new-comer figure. What a woeful change wrought by bad government!

The Czar of all the Russias is the largest land-owner in the world. He has one estancia of 50 millions of hectares, about the size of Spain. We'd like to have sheep on halves with the Imperial estanciero.

Our newsy La Plata colleague, the Buenos Aires, is getting on so well that it intends to become a morning paper on May Day next. "Felicitaciones."

The "tape" is still going ahead. It will in future announce the delivery and departure of mails, and also the sailing of the steamers of all the ocean and river companies.

We thank that most indefatigable of publishers Mr. Jacob Peuser for sending us another very interesting book "Las Comarcas Virgenes—El Chaco Central Norte", by Captain Baldrich, of the Argentine Line. The matter in this book is of the most useful and interesting kind, and the map in connection with it is said to be the best map of the Chaco as yet published.

The tramway company for Mercedes has been formed, in spite of the hard times. Its capital is nice and small, $150,000; but quite enough for the purpose in hand. When the line is completed there will be business for a few more doctors in old Mercedes, as the people will not walk, and liver complaints, obesity, dyspepsia, etc. will be the order of the day.

The popular Dr. Davel won the $10,000 prize in this month's drawing of the City Lottery Loan. The same prize for March was won by a grocer in Calle Corrientes.

Messrs. Bateman and Co. have reminded Government that they haven't touched a cent of their commission on the Legacy since November last, and a trifle of cash now would not be refused by them. "Et tu Brute!" the Government may well exclaim.

Another tramway squeeze is in prospect. The Lord Mayor has ordered the Inspectors to enforce the rules and regulations to the very last letter. This virtuous fit won't last an hour longer or have any better result than its numerous predecessors.

It makes a lawyer purr when anything comes to him in the fee-line.

At the second hour, owing to the excitement about the Bank-Cambista affair, little or no business was done, the whole market being engrossed with discussing the facts, bearings and issue of the case. It created a very unfavourable impression all round and although only about half a million gold changed hands, the quotations rose to 294 50 and closed a bare point lower. National Bank Shares continued in good demand, and, in spite of the heaviness of the market, it is thought that the stock is cheap under 10 o|o premium. Cedulas were again able to hold their own, as also Constructors and Catalinas. A large lot of City Bank Mortgage Bonds changed hands at 48, and Municipal Lottery Bonds at 33

The Duca di Galliera, which left Montevideo on 6th Murch, arrived in Las Palmos on 9th April, and the Nord America, outward bound, arrived at Las Palmas same day.

Although the works of the Rural Exhibition at Palermo are being pushed ahead with feverish activity, it has been apparent for some time that they could not be concluded in time to open the Show on the date specified. This has caused the appearance of a notice from the Rural Society that the inauguration has been postponed until Sunday, 4th May, and the awards until the 25th.

We take the following important telegram from the columns of our leading colleague La Argentina:—

London, April 9th—Argentine Foreign 3½ o/o have fallen 3½ o/o, being quoted at 60½ o/o.

Sterling Bonds, 4½ o/o, closed at 101.

1886, 5 o/o, fell off ½, closing at 87 o/o.

National B Cedulas, 7 o|o interest, are quoted at 39.

The Avenida de Mayo Committee met yesterday with a view to dispatching some matters of detail. The want of funds to pay the indemnities and expropriations has paralyzed the works, and in spite of the efforts and zeal of the committee nothing can be done towards pushing the boulevard ahead. In great part this is due to the selfishness of the owners of the properties, who seem anything but eager to lend a helping hand.

According to Jujuy advices, the branch of the National Bank there has stopped drawing altogether on Rosario and Buenos Aires, which has caused a complete snag-up in business.

The English Bank of the River Plate, under date 14th February, informs the Minister of Hacienda that it has placed to the credit of the Government £222,045 stg, corresponding to item 22 of the Budget.

The meeting of shareholders of the Pobladores Railway Company was held yesterday, the report being read and balance sheet presented. Mr. T. Duggan, the chairman, informed the meeting that the railway concession with the land necessary for stations and track had been sold to Mr. Henderson, who in turn had transferred his rights to the Rosario Railway, the sum paid being 1,270,080 national dollars. The balance in favour of the company is 827,515 dollars, and the scrip will be changed into fully paid up shares. With regard to the line, the sections up to San Isidro will be finished within six months. Where the Northern Railway is crossed a superb bridge is being erected, and the Tigre and San Fernando Canal will be also provided with swing bridges now on their way out from England.

Mr. C P. Lumb, the popular money broker, was welcomed to-day on his arrival in the Elbe.

All vessels loading or discharging in the deposits of the South Basin and Dock have to pay 80 cents per ton of cargo for the use of the cranes. A decree to this effect has been issued by the Finance Office.

The captain of the English barque Blue Bird, from Boston, recently arrived in Montevideo, has informed the Customs' Office that in a heavy gale which overtook his vessel, a large part of his deck cargo of lumber was washed overboard.

The Royal Mail s.s. Elbe, which arrived in Montevideo on the 8th has brought the following passengers:—

For Montevideo—Mr F Farr and 15 third-class.

For Buenos Aires—Messrs G P Wight, G Ancigar, A R Ommanney, J Garroway, Macarthur, F Seymour Weldon, C P Lumb, G Dawson, W Wessern, E Ahlstrom, Chas. A Pope and 67 third-class.

We take the following about the building crisis in Rome from a late exchange:—

"The British Consul in Rome, in a report, returns to the subject of the building crisis in that city, and endeavours to answer two questions—first, whether the crisis has reached its climax; and, second, what its immediate consequences will be. From official statistics it appears that £11,000,000 sterling of private capital was invested in building in Rome in the six years ending with March 1888. The larger part of this amount was supplied by mortgage banks on the security of the land and houses. The crisis came in 1887; large stocks of building materials remained on hand, the sale of building land was suddenly checked, and in the less favourably situated quarters underwent an enormous depreciation. Between 1882 and 1887, when the building fever was at its height, rents increased enormously, and even now are much higher than in any other Italian city, except Naples. Owing, however, to the crisis, the market value of house property is low, and capital which has been employed in building speculations remains entangled, to the great detriment and serious risk of the banks and firms engaged in that business. But although there is great depression and no sign of an approaching revival of the business, the Consul says that the increase of public wealth in Rome since 1870 had been extraordinary. Capital has flowed in from many directions, especially from religious sources, for the numerous religious communities, old and new, of both sexes have attracted or brought in capital from abroad to erect churches and convents. The population of the city on June 30 last year was 407,936 excluding a considerable floating population."

The Custom House receipts to-day were:—

Imports	$83,000
Exports	830.90
Stamps	20,403.42
	$104,234.32

The President of the Republic left to-day for the Cabaña Laura, the property of General Bosch, where he will probably remain until next Monday.

Messrs. Luis Godoy & Co. sold yesterday the following properties:—

Five lots of land in Calles San Juan and 2a Catamarca, at 19.10, 17.10 and 14.50 the square yard.

Four lots of land in Calle Arena, between Soria and 24 de Noviembre, at 5 and 5½ m|n the square yard, the buyers being Messrs. A, Dalpiani, A, Gasini, P. Caperatti and S Giacumini.

A piece of land in Calle Caridad, between Pavon and Arena, at 5.80 m|n the square yard; buyer G. Calcardini.

A small house in Calle Boedo, between Pavon and 87, for 4550 m|n; buyer, D. A. Denapoli.

The following other transactions are also reported:—

Two leagues of camp in the National Territories, section A, lot 24, at 35,070 m|n.

Santa Fe 760, 7x60 sq. yards for 28,000 m|n.

ON 'CHANGE.

PRICE OF GOLD TO-DAY.

First Ring............	300.00
Second Ring...........	307.00

Friday, April 11th.

The market this morning opened under the most pessimistic influences, and gold, the real monarch of the situation, asserted its power over schemes, projects, politics, crises, etc., touching a figure never before known in these countries, and with all the semblance of going still higher. It is difficult in periods so critical to define the situation, or even report the market. The crisis, as we remarked last week, continues; it grows daily, and each day we have some fresh "novedad." The fuss made yesterday about the gold "conformes" of the Commercial Bank rather extended today, and has led to the sudden cashing or liquidation of those "conformes" of all the banks in town. People who ought to know say that the total issue of gold "conformes" in the market is small, but we note that since yesterday these gold cheques pass less freely than before. At noon it was announced on the tapes that the National Bank had commenced drawing for the s.s. Ecuador for 22nd inst. at the following rates in gold, and would not receive paper in payment— on London 47½d., Paris 5f., Belgium 5.01f., Germany 4.02 marks. This news of the bank drawing only in gold possibly affected the gold market, as the premium at the second ring at once advanced and gold rose to 312, and then dropped. Various political rumours were also afloat, but of these perhaps the less said the better. As things are so critical, we must attach no importance to the passing rumours on 'Change.

Another landmark has been passed in the giddy race upward of the gold premium. The 200 o/o was reached and passed to-day at the first hour, and as looking back is out of the question, the market has now taken to computing the time requisite for reaching 250 o/o. Whilst the premium whistles by these landmarks at express speed, no apprehensions seem too black and no prospects too clouded to be considered exaggerated. The Government seem powerless to control the tide that is blighting the credit and progress of the country, paralyzing trade, ruining business, and stifling production. Whether it be that the danger is underrated or the cost deemed excessive; whether the Executive has lost its head at the critical moment, or is ignorant of the quicksands upon which the financial barque is driving; whether, in fact, through obtuseness or carelessness the measures suggested by the market are derided in Government circles, and a happy go-lucky policy of give and take adhered to; all this is kept in the most profound reserve, and the market sees the signposts fly by and the premium tearing upwards without the smallest symptom that the terrible earnestness of the situation and bleakness of the outlook have disturbed the implacable optimism and the unshakable serenity of the Government. Such fatalistic confidence in the eventual righting of the ship without lending a helping hand almost passes comprehension; all the more so when the general condition of the country is taken into consideration. Were we assailed by war or famine, sickness or plagues, or even dearth of production, such unexampled supineness might be taken in extenuation; but with every possible aid that prosperity and progress can lend, matters have been so fearfully muddled that even any of the above calamities might be preferable. Truth to tell, the market seems to apprehend that the "moneda legal" will soon be again the old, familiar "moneda corriente." Affairs are fast tending that way.

Business at the first hour embraced the sale of 711,500 dollars gold, the bulk of which was for cash, at rates fluctuating between 297 and 295, and closing with a rattle at 300. For Saturday and end of month there was a stiff demand, but few sellers, and as high as 300 was paid for latter date. National Bank Shares, consequent on the stiffness of the gold premium, fell away, and although in demand yesterday at 107, were an offer all round to-day at a nominal premium. Cedulas, strange to say, held their own, which shows what hopes are based on the sale of the railway. Catalinas and Constructors were neglected, only a few sales being effected at weakened rates. Taken altogether, the Stocks showed a decided relapse, in great part due to the rise in gold.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

Gold—

With regard to a paragraph in our last issue concerning meeting of shareholders of the Bolsa, it is the Bolsa of La Plata that is in question, and not the Temple of Mammon here.

The incident between the "cambista" and Banco Comercial which gave rise to so much comment of an unfavourable nature to both parties yesterday turns out void of importance, and, as we anticipated, originated in the "cambista" having overdrawn his account. The manager had previously paid cheques of same party drawn in "descubierto," but, owing to explicit instructions from the board, has now ceased doing so. The bank, we believe, on good authority, is in a first-rate position, which will be a relief to the market, as reports of its being in a bad state have been spread broadcast for some time, causing much distrust and anxiety.

At the close of the first ring to-day 100 Banco Inmobiliario shares were brought to the hammer for account of the liquidation, being knocked down at par.

Four brokers were posted to-day as defaulters, some of the parties being old and favourite members of the ring. They came to grief at the last liquidation.

We take the following interesting telegrams from the Argentina:—

London, 10th—Bank rate has been reduced from 4 to 3½ o/o. Affairs on 'Change quiet. English Consols 98½ o/o. Colonial wool auctions opened to-day, 450,000 bales Australian and Cape of Good Hope wool offered; buyers scarce and tendency weak.

Barcelona, 10th—River Plate novillo dry hides down 2 pesetas to 70 pesetas the quintal Catalan.

Liverpool, 10th—River Plate frozen meat up ⅛d. to 4⅛d. the lb.

Roubaix, 10th—Business in worked wool quiet, the results of the London auctions being waited for. Combed ordinary quoted at 6.25 francs disponible and 6.20 to deliver during month. Market quiet.

Dr. Dominguez, Argentine Minister in England, has called Dr. Zeballos' attention to the following items in the London papers:—The Mark Lane Express, in its corn review, says:—"The attention of a good many purchasers is being directed to the new wheat crop in La Plata. The price asked—32s. for white wheat and 30s. for red—is low when the quality is considered. It is rumoured that between English and continental buyers half a million quarters of Argentine wheat have already been contracted for." This is further commented on by the Financier, which says; "At 30s.
